

Pravets Golf & Spa Set to Welcome Familiar Faces and First Timers in 2017

The Staff at Pravets Golf & Spa, Bulgaria, are looking forward to the up and coming season and happily are seeing a few returning faces. In particular, Pravets are delighted to see an increasing number of Golf Professionals travelling with their clients and using Pravets as a venue for tournament weeks, golf breaks and specifically Coaching Camps.

The combination of the picturesque golf course and practice facilities designed by Peter Harradine that would grace any venue in Europe, along with the onsite Riu Hotel with superb spa and leisure facilities, makes it an ideal venue. Professionals have their own private areas to work in, can utilise the superbly equipped swing studio's as well as indoor classrooms.

Pravets is welcoming UK based PGA Professional Gary Pike returning for a 3rd straight year with his "Golf Tuition Holidays". Gary spends a number of weeks in Pravets, with a different set of clients arriving each week.

Alan Rogut, Pravets Director of Golf commented, "It is great to see Gary and his Golf Travel Services clients returning for yet another year. Our aim is to ensure Gary's clients are well looked after and we also make Gary's week as easy as possible by providing the right access to all the facilities and ensure our friendly and attentive staff are on hand for anything."

Gary added, "Pravets has amazing practice facilities, a superb golf course and comfortable hotel. Along with the service we receive from Alan and his team, that covers everything I require to host a successful golf coaching week."

“Gary joins Professionals and returning groups from the UK, Sweden and Romania and we will be welcoming new Professionals with their members from Russia, in what we project will be Pravets’ busiest season so far. Pravets hosted the UniCredit PGA Professional Championship of Europe for the past 6 years and golf professionals from over 30 countries have visited each year,” said Alan Rogut. “The aim was to give them the best tournament experience and this continues in providing the visiting Professionals with the facilities and service to ensure their clients have a great experience.”

Superb indoor coaching at Pravets

Pravets Golf & Spa has fast gained a reputation within the Bulgarian golfing fraternity for the quality and condition of the golf course. The club is the centre-piece of an excellent 4-star resort that offers a 240-key hotel, spa, conference, leisure and a host of other activities. Situated only 40 minutes from the Capital City Sofia, the resort is a popular weekend retreat and it is now gaining attention from international visitors.
